Principles

All PLSC Members agree to adhere to these principles as part of the PLSC

1. PLSC members support the greater PLSC goals as the primary joint advocacy strategy rather than individual goals.
2. In PLSC meetings with external audiences, PLSC members promote the joint movement rather than individual programs. PLSC members mention individual programs as examples of a greater movement, but do not use these meetings to promote individual programs. When mentioning specific programs, PLSC members typically mention more than one program to promote the larger good.
3. PLSC members adopt a collaborative spirit toward colleagues while respecting differences in mission and program design. PLSC members avoid duplication of effort where feasible.
4. Where feasible, PLSC members seek to engage other PLSC members on large regional or national initiatives.
5. PLSC members seek to build the capacity of the entire network by sharing best practices and special organizational and program strengths with other programs.
6. PLSC expects all of its members to adhere to these principles in the interest of promoting the growth, development, and sustainability of the entire movement, not just their individual organizational goals. A member's continued failure to adhere to the PLSC principles may result in the revocation of PLSC membership by a vote of the PLCS Steering Committee.
