

Camping Projects Crew Supervisor

Challenge yourself as a leader of a 6-person crew while serving in the diverse neighborhoods of Chicago as well as the vast landscapes of the National Forests in the Midwest.

Greencorps Chicago is looking for an experienced Crew Supervisor to tackle day-to-day responsibilities of crew life. Success requires dependability, unwavering dedication, excellent decision making, and allegiance to providing high quality training. You will lead up to five trainees while maintaining trails, constructing pergolas, spraying invasive species, participating in prescription burns, running chainsaws and installing green infrastructure improvements. Different than any other professional experience that you could imagine, being a Crew Supervisor with Greencorps is a big commitment where you will be regularly relied upon by trainees.

Greencorps partnerships provide unparalleled networking opportunities, including with the Chicago Park District, Forest Preserves of Cook County, Chicago Department of Planning and Development, and the US Forest Service.

The position is for nine months beginning in March and continuing through December. You can expect to work between 36 and 40 hours each week during your term. Greencorps' shop is conveniently located at the Chicago Center for Green Technology and is close to public transportation, including the Green Line of the "L".

When you're not working, being based out of Chicago grants you unparalleled access to our magnificent lakefront, world renowned architecture and museums, diverse ethnic cuisine, vibrant street festivals, and so much more. You will not need a personal vehicle as you will find that Chicago has an excellent public transit system and was recently named the most bicycle friendly city in the United States.

"One week you may be removing ash trees affected by EAB from the Frederick Law Olmsted designed Jackson Park on Chicago's south side and the next week you could be mapping invasive species and camping in the Garden of the Gods Wilderness of the Shawnee National Forest."
